Flavor Paper for Arte is a collection of audacious wallpapers – to say the least. It's the result of our collaboration with a remarkable company: Flavor Paper. It is an American company from the creative heart of Brooklyn, New York that thrives on extravagant designs and a bold attitude. They are known in the scene for exclusive designer wallpapers made by hand.

When Flavor Paper popped up on our radar, we were quite impressed with these special, unique designs. This was really something the entire world should see. We reached out and asked if we could work with a selection of Flavor Paper's large scale of unique products, with the intention to create a rotary screen print version. We came to an agreement with Flavor Paper, and the synergy between our two companies led to this exclusive collection. It is the perfect addition to our range of exclusive wallcoverings. If you are looking for an extravagant wallpaper that never gets boring, Flavor Paper for Arte is the way to go.

Arte pays tribute to the world-renowned Swiss architect & designer Le Corbusier with the brand Le Corbusier Wallcoverings. It is a contemporary interpretation of his unparalleled work, executed in the same spirit of originality as its inspiration. Created using advanced technology and innovative manufacturing methods, but true to Le Corbusier's unique vision.

Le Corbusier was undoubtedly one of the most influential architects of the 20th century. He is regarded as a founder of modernism, and was well ahead of his time when it came to furniture, art and colour design. Colour was essential to his architecture. He even developed a guide for combining colours which he called 'Polychromie architecturale'. This tool is based on 63 colours, all of which are used for these wallpaper collections.

In 2005, Arte joined forces with the interior brand Flamant to launch their first ever joint collection. Flamant – The Wallpaper Collection was an unparalleled success and was later followed by other collections under this label. Over time, this wallpaper has become an evergreen. Both Arte and Flamant are extremely proud of this successful collaboration.

All our collections under the Flamant label have the timeless look of linen, a material that has been used to decorate interiors for decades. These wallpapers are as warm and tactile as linen, with the same natural appearance. And, just like linen, they are exceptionally durable and breathable. The wide range comprises beautiful plains, contemporary designs and more classic patterns.
